

Weddings As Unique as The Two Of You

Welcome!

Thank you for your interest in pricing wedding photography by The Photography Specialist.

In a moment, you may scroll down to view the three common photography packages offered through The Photography Specialist. Prices are subject to change at any time, but will always be honored once a deposit has been made.

Please note that flexibility exists in every package to make changes in order to fit your specific needs (or budget).

Now, a brief word...

Photographers who openly display pricing information are confident in their work. They are not poised to give you a sales pitch, they do not strategize on a price based on your budget, and they understand your time is at a premium. After all, this is your day and you've got a lot of planning ahead. It's really about you. So if this isn't your last stop, some good advice: look for a photographer who publishes their prices!
